

Dave Williams Sound Recordist/Mixer

Member of AMPS (Association of Motion Picture Sound)

Education: London Film School, 1989-91
Grade: Film/Location Sound Mixing

I have been in the industry recording sound for over 30 years, from short features and drama to documentaries and large-format shows, from the technology of the 90s working with just a single boom and a few radio mics, to today's working formats which include multi-cameras with 20 to 30 radio mics/recorders. Each location throws up different challenges and compromises – my work in documentaries has enabled me to focus on getting things done with pace and without the need to sacrifice quality. I really enjoy the challenge a day has to offer.

Below is a short list of some of the shows I have recorded sound for since 1991.
